PREFACE.

While the contents of this book are not as complete as I could wish, they are believed to be as complete as it is now possible to make them and as full as the scope of the present work will admit. Every clue has been followed up and thorough research made into every known source of information; and such information as is here presented may be received as authentic and relied upon as correct.

I should have been glad to have included in this volume all the descendants of the first David Munroe of Canterbury. But this task would have occupied years of labor. It is to be hoped that some of the descendants of David's other children will undertake this task. The present work is a reasonably complete record of the descendants of David's youngest son Josiah. A few of the family records will be found incomplete, owing in some cases to the inability of Professor Monroe and myself to locate living descendants, and in others to continued neglect to reply to our letters of inquiry.

Care has been taken to make the work as complete and accurate as possible; and if there are errors in the book, they are probably due to the persons who furnished the records. Mistakes were frequently detected in the family records sent by descendants. In one case a man gave the date of his second marriage for that of the death of his first wife, and the reverse. In another case two brothers furnished birth records that indicated an interval of only five months between their birth dates. Both were returned for corrections but each insisted he had given the correct information. An appeal was made to their sister and she stated that both had given incorrect dates. The dates she sent were accepted, for they had the merit of physical possibility. In some cases the penmanship was so illegible that it was not easy to decipher names and dates. Frequently nicknames were sent instead of baptismal names. The rule, however, has been to follow the spelling of the name as given, unless manifestly incorrect.

The Index figures at the end of the volume refer to the pages on which the names of descendants will be found. Females are always given under their family (not their married) names. As names of the same persons, and persons in the same families, have been frequently found differently spelled, variations of the same family names are placed together in the index.

For the benefit of other genealogists, some information concerning other Monroe families is given in the appendix.

I desire to express my sincere gratitude to the many who have so cheerfully aided me in this difficult undertaking. But most especially are we all indebted to Professor Will S. Monroe of Montclair, New Jersey, who has spared neither time nor expense in advancing this work; and has himself collected and arranged the material in Chapters II, VI, VII, VIII, IX, XIV, and whose friendly counsel and experienced advice I have frequently availed myself of.

As the list of advance subscribers is small, there will doubtless be other descendants who may want copies of the book; many persons named in the book who are now children may want copies when they are grown up. Such copies of the book as I have on hand I shall be glad to furnish bound in dark red cloth, gold stamp, for $3, and bound in blue silk cloth, gold stamp and gold edges, for $4. A draft, check, or post-office money order should be sent with the request.

ARMS OF THE CLAN MONRO

I.—INTRODUCTION.

The first of our ancestors to arrive on these shores came over near the close of the civil war in England, under circumstances as interesting to his descendants as they were unhappy for himself. The battle of Worcester was fought Sept. 3rd, 1651, by an army of fourteen thousand Scots under Charles II, against Oliver Cromwell. Of this battle Russell's Modern Europe says: "Charles, having marched into England, at Worcester was attacked by Cromwell with thirty thousand men, and after having shown many proofs of personal valor, fled. The Duke of Hamilton made a desperate resistance, was mortally wounded, and the Scots were almost all either killed or taken. The prisoners to the number of eight thousand were sold as slaves to the American planters."

272 of these prisoners were shipped from London, November 11, 1651, by "Jo. Beex," "Rob't Rich" and "Willjam Greene" in a craft called the "John and Sarah," John Greene, Master, and were consigned to "Mr. Tho. Kemble" of Boston. A list of these men was recorded in the office of the Registry of Deeds, Boston, May 13, 1652. In this list appear the names of Rob't Munrow, John Munrow, Hugh Munrow and William (?) Munrow.

Of the prisoners taken at the battle of Dunbar, one year previous to that of Worcester, a letter written by Rev. John Cotton to "Lord Gen'l Cromwell," dated "Boston in N. E. 28th of 5th, 1651," says:

"The Scots whom God delivered into your hands at Dunbar whereof sundry were sent hither, we have been desirous, (as we could,) to make their yoke easy. Such as were sick of the scurvy have not wanted physick or chirurgery. They have not been sold for slaves to perpetual servitude, but for 6 or 7 or 8 years, and he that bt the mst of them (I heare,) buildeth hss for them, for every four an hs, layeth some acres of ground thereto which he giveth them as their owne, requiring 3 dayes in the weeke to worke for him by turnes and 4 dayes for themselves, and promiseth as soone as they can repay him the mon-ey he laid out for them he will set them at liberty." Doubtless the prisoners taken at the battle of Worcester were similarly treated.

Of Robert, John and Hugh Munrow mentioned above, there is no further record, though tradition says that John settled at Bristol, now in the state of Rhode Island, and John and Mehet-ible Monroe had a son, Joseph, born there, the first recorded, Dec. 8, 1696, and Munros are numerous in Rhode Isand. The fourth Munrow in the list, however, whose first name has been partially erased, has been identified by both Mr. John G. Locke and Mr. James P. Munroe, with the first William of Cambridge Farms, now Lexington, Mass., and with William, son of Robert Munro of Aldie, Scotland. And it has been suggested that the erasure of the name may possibly have been made by some early descendant on account of the disgrace feared from the circumstances. However that may be, even if William was not a passenger on the "John and Sarah," there can be no reasonable doubt that he was the son of Robert of Aldie, taken prisoner at Worcester and deported. According to James P. Munroe he was taken "in that last desperate stand at the north end" of Worcester.

The Munroes of Lexington constitute but a fraction of William's posterity. In his Sketch of the Munro Clan, James P. Munroe says: "Little wonder then that the descendants of this one Munro are now legion and are scattered over the en-the country. * * Then too there are Munroes who trace back to Connecticut ancestry or to ancestors in western Massachu-setts, whom the most careful searching can not connect with any one of the Lexington families; although they all possess as an heirloom some legend of Cambridge Farms."

Of the valor of the Munros, in Scotland, in the armies of England, and in America, I have not space to speak. Their valor, however, has not been surpassed in the annals of history. When on one occasion the courage of the Munroes was remarked upon to Col. William Munroe of Lexington, he replied: "No wonder, sir, at all. They have Irish, Scotch and Yankee blood in their veins." Fifteen Munroes participated in the battle of Lexington. Col. William Munroe was orderly Serjeant of the minute men, and Ensign Robert Munroe is said to have been the first man killed. Thus Munroe blood was the first blood shed in the Revolution.

As to the spelling of the name, the ancient Scotch spelling was probably Monro. In this country Monro, Monroe, Munro, Munroe, Monrow and Munrow are all found, and in the early New England records it is sometimes abbreviated to Roe and Row.

In the books and records consulted by me the names of the families of our ancestors are variously spelled Monroe, Munro, Munroe and Munrow, without any apparent reason for the difference.

In the census returns of 1790 the names of heads of families with this surname in the eleven states of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina are spelled Monro 23 times, Monroe 26 times, Monrow 4 times, Munro 32 times, Munroe 94 times and Munrow 9 times.

After a careful survey of all the facts I am led to the following conclusions:

1. That in the days of our early American ancestors, there was no accepted and standard spelling of the name, but that the most common spelling was Munroe.
2. That there have been many changes, and no one today can either claim or deny kinship on account of the spelling of the name.
3. That the name at the present time is much more commonly spelled Monroe than any other way.

In conclusion, it may be said that the Lexington families mostly spell the name Munroe. The descendants of Josiah and David, sons of the first Josiah, still retain that spelling. Practically all other descendants spell the name Monroe.

It is fitting that I should lay before the reader the evidence by which the first David Munroe of Canterbury is identified with David, the son of the first William of Lexington. This point, which is regarded by the author as of great importance, has been made the subject of long and exhaustive research. In searching for evidence that would either prove or disprove this point, every possible known source of information has been patiently and thoroughly examined, so that the reader of this volume may feel assured that herein is briefly stated all that could be learned upon this subject. The evidence is as follows:

1. David Munroe of Lexington emigrated. James Phinney Munroe in his book, indeed says that he "probably died young." But in a letter to the writer dated Aug. 26, 1911, he says: "As you know David was not mentioned in his father's will, and we have always supposed, therefore, that he died before William; but there may have been other reasons for the omission, such as a quarrel with his father, or the remoteness of his residence. Certainly the similarity in age and in the names of his children of the Canterbury David, point strongly to his being a son of William." The fact that David left no posterity in Lexington, points not to his death, but to his having emigrated; for, had he died there, his death would almost certainly have been recorded at Cambridge or at Lexington, as are the deaths of other members of his family. But David's death is not recorded, either at Lexington or any where else except at Canterbury. Besides he did not die young, for there is a record of his baptism at Lexington after he had grown to manhood.

2. David Munroe of Canterbury came from no other place than Lexington. He was among the first settlers at Canterbury, and must have emigrated from somewhere, and the first settlers of Connecticut are well known to have come from the colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay. The only early settlement of Munroes in New England other than at Lexington was at Bristol, now in the State of Rhode Island. John, Thomas, William and George Munroe resided there previous to 1700, but no David; and the first record of any child born to either of them was not till 1696, less than nine years before David's first child was born at Canterbury. A David Munroe resided at Norwalk and raised a family of ten children, mostly daughters, but the dates of their birth, 1690 to 1711, show that he could not have been either the father of David of Canterbury, or the son of William of Lexington.

I have searched not only the vital statistics of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, but also all the published volumes and records of immigrants to New England previous to 1700, and have found no person who could possibly have been either identical with, or the father of David Munroe of Canterbury, other than the first William of Lexington and David his son.

3. The known events in the life of David Munroe at Lexington and at Canterbury exactly synchronize with and supplement each other so as to form one perfect and harmonious whole, leaving no room for doubt that they are events in the life of one and the same person.

The last record of him at Lexington is that of his baptism in 1699, when he was nineteen years of age. The first at Canterbury is that of the birth of his first child in 1705, when he was nearly twenty-five years old. During the interval between these dates he was of exactly the age when we should expect a young man to marry and establish his home in a new community.

4. With this agree the traditions which have come to me from many sources, such as: "All the Munroes came from Cambridge;" "David Munroe was born at Cambridge;" "David Munroe was born in Middlesex county;" all of which is true of the first David, who was born in that part of the original town of Cambridge afterwards erected into the precinct of Cambridge Farms, now Lexington, Middlesex county, Massachusetts.

5. All this is strongly corroborated by the correspondence in family names. Of the eleven children of David, six are named for the children of the first William, one of them being also his own and one his father's name. So many correspondences could not have been a mere coincidence.

6. To offset all this, or to cast the least shadow of doubt upon the conclusion here reached, there is not a particle of evidence, of any kind, from any source whatever.

7. Since the above was written, the following facts have come to light: John Monroe, son of the first Josiah, who lived and died at Canterbury, had in his lifetime, a written family record, which must have been a combination of diary and genealogy. Whether it was written by his grand-father, the first David, or by himself from information obtained from his grand-father, is not known.

When John died it passed to the family of his grand-son, Samuel, and ultimately came to the latter's daughter, Mrs Mary (Monroe) Collins, who now resides at Central Village, Connecticut. Unfortunately this precious document was destroyed when the Collins home burned in 1890. In substance it told of the coming of William from Scotland, his settlement in Massachusetts, and the settlement of his son, David, at Canterbury, etc.

Mrs. Collins, who related these facts to Professor, Will S. Monroe, in January of the present year, says she has read the record over many times, and remembers it well. She herself is a remarkably well preserved woman 78 years of age. Of her Professor Monroe says: "Mrs. Collins is a bright woman 78 years young. I have never met a person of 78 whose memory was better than hers."

II.—OUR SCOTCH ANCESTORS.

The Munro clan is one of the oldest in Scotland. The word clan in Gaelic means children; and a clan originally consisted of the children of a common ancestor, bound together by the ties of blood. The oldest male relative was the chief of the clan, and to him all the members were loyal. The origin of the Munro clan is lost in legendary obscurity. Sir Robert Douglas in his Baronage remarks that he once saw a manuscript history of the family in which it was stated that "they were the ancient Scots, who, being banished from their country by the Romans, fled to Ireland about the year 357 A. D.," from whence they returned to Scotland nearly seven hundred years later.

Dr. Wm. F. Skene, the authoritative Scotch historiographer, discounts this origin, and asserts that the Munros have lived continuously in Scotland since the earliest times; and that they came into Ross, where we find them at the beginning of the eleventh century, from the province of Moray in the northern part of the Highlands. The origin of the name is likewise lost in the dim annals of antiquity, but Dr. Skene expresses the belief that it is in some way connected with the province of Moray, where they had probably resided for a very long time before the dawn of authentic history.

Donald Munro, who lived during the reign of Malcolm II, who was the king of the Scots from 1003 to 1034, is the first ancestor concerning whom we have any traditional information; and all the Munros of the Highlands of Scotland bearing his surname believe themselves to be related to and to be descended from him. Donald rendered material aid to Malcolm in his contests with the Danish invaders, and received from the Scotch king about the year 1033 or 1034 certain tracts of land on the north side of the Firth of Cromarty, in what is now the county of Ross in the Highlands of Scotland.

These lands were erected into the Barony of Fowlis by Donald's grandson, Hugh Munro, and have been in the possession of the family ever since. The present Baron of Fowlis is Sir Hector Munro, who was born September 13, 1849. Alexander Mackenzie in his history of the Munros remarks concerning the Barony of Fowlis: "It has ever since formed the title and been the chief residence of the head of the house, which, for nearly eight hundred years has existed in uninterrupted descent in the male line—a fact said to be unexampled in the annals of Scotland or England." It will thus be seen that our family is a very ancient one. Those who may be interested in its early history should consult the comprehensive volume by Mackenzie already mentioned.

The tartan of the Munro clan is very beautiful, the dominant color being red, with yellow and green in secondary checks. The slogan or war cry was "Castael Foulis 'na theine" (Fowlis Castle is afire,) referring probably to beacons or signal lights. The clan badge was the common club moss, and the clan pipe music "Bealach na broige," or Munro march. The arms of the clan—the or, an eagle's head; the crest, an eagle perching; the supporters, two eagles; the badge, eagle's feathers, and the motto, "Dread God."

The following summary gives our Scotch ancestors from Donald, the first clan chief concerning whom we have traditional evidence, down to William, our first American ancestor:

1. Donald, founder of the ancient house of Fowlis, was born before the year 990 and died about 1053. His son
2. George is said to have assisted Malcolm III in his contentions with Macbeth for the crown of Scotland (1054 to 1057.) He lived to an advanced age and died about 1101. His son
3. Hugh was the first to be designated Baron of Fowlis. He enlarged the family estates and died about 1126. His son
4. Robert, second Baron of Fowlis, rendered valuable service to David I and Malcolm IV of Scotland. He married a daughter of Angus Mor Macdonald and died in 1164. He was buried in the chanonry of Ross, which continued to be the family burying place for more than four hundred years. His son

5. Donald, third Baron of Fowlis, gave valuable assistance to William the Lion, the first Scotch king really to establish sovereignty in the Highlands. He died in 1192. His son

6. Robert, fourth Baron of Fowlis, married a daughter of Hugh Freskyn de Moravia, and died in 1239. His son

7. George, fifth Baron of Fowlis. From this time documentary family records exist. He died about 1269. His son

8. Robert, sixth Baron of Fowlis, assisted Robert Bruce in his decisive victory over Edward II at Bannockburn in 1314. He died in 1323. His son

9. George married a daughter of the Earl of Sutherland. He was with his father at Bannockburn and fell the 24th of June 1314. As he predeceased his father, he never became Baron of Fowlis. His son

10. George succeeded his grandfather as seventh Baron of Fowlis. He was slain in the bloody battle of Halidon Hill in 1333 while fighting with Bruce against Edward III. His son

11. Robert, eighth Baron of Fowlis, was killed in a clan fight in 1369. His son

12. Hugh, ninth Baron of Fowlis, married (1) Isabella Keith and (2) Margaret, daughter of the fourth Earl of Sutherland. He died in 1425. His son

13. George, tenth Baron of Fowlis, married (1) Isabel, daughter of Ross of Balingown and (2) Christine MacCulloch. By his first wife he had one son (1) George; by his second wife, (2) John, (3) Hugh, and (4) William. Our family is descended from Hugh.

14. Hugh married (1) Eva Maclean, with issue—(1) John, (2) Hector, and (3) Andrew. He married (2) Jane Cattanach, with issue—(4) Alexander, (5) Donald, (6) Robert, and (7) George. He married (3) a daughter of Keith Marshall, with issue—(8) John of the Ord. His first son

15. John graduated at the University of Aberdeen, and was pastor, first at Logie-Wester and Urquhard, in the Black Isle, and next at Balkny, in the parish of Kiltearn. He married a daughter of Mackenzie of Strathconon, with issue—(1) John Mor, (2) Hugh, (3) William, (4) Andrew, (5) David, and (6) Donald. His first son

16. John Mor married Katherine Vass, with issue—(1) John, (2) Hugh, (3) Robert, (4) Farguhar, (5) David, (6) Margaret, and (7) Katherine. John Mor died in 1600. His fourth son

17. Farquhar married Katherine MacCulloch. Their son

18. Robert of Aldie was Commissary of Caithness. He had four sons and one daughter—(1) Robert, (2) George, (3) William, (4) Benedict, and (5) Elizabeth. They were born between 1615 and 1630. Robert of Aldie died in 1633. His third son

19. William was born in the county of Ross, in Scotland, in 1625. He was taken prisoner at the battle of Worcester in 1651 and deported to America in 1652. He married (1) in 1665, Martha George, by whom he had four children; (2) Mary Ball, by whom he had nine children, and (3) Elizabeth Wyer, without issue. He died at Lexington, Massachusetts, the 27th of January 1717. For his children, see Nos. 20 to 32.

III.—OUR FIRST AMERICAN ANCESTOR.

The facts concerning the deportation of William Munroe (No. 19) from Scotland to America have already been related in the introductory chapter. Just when he established his home in the town of Cambridge, Massachusetts, it is not possible to say. The first probable mention of him in the Cambridge records is in 1657, when "William Row" and another man were fined "for not having rings in ye nose of their swine."

William married in 1665 Martha George, daughter of John George, who was disfranchised, fined, and imprisoned in Charlestown for being a persistent Baptist. He became one of the founders of what is now the First Baptist Church of Boston. After Martha's death he married Mary Ball, and in 1692 she died and he married for a third wife "Elizabeth Johnson, widow of Edward Wyer of Charlestown," by whom he had no children.

In 1690 he was made a freeman, and was often connected with the town affairs. "Cambridge farms" having been made a separate parish, in 1692 a committee was appointed of which "William Roe, Sen." was one, "to treat for land for the ministry." In 1694 he was chosen one of the selectmen of Cambridge.

William's descendants played important roles in the early history of New England. Many of them served in the colonial wars against the French and Indians; and twenty-five of his descendants were in the Revolutionary war. His grandson Capt. Josiah Munroe was an associate of Lafayette, and was presented with a sword by the great French general. Col. William Munroe, another grandson, was orderly sargent of the minute-men at the battle of Lexington. Edmund Munroe, another grandson, was one of three founders of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Kirk Munroe, the story writer; James Phinney Munroe, the author and publicist; Charles E. Munroe, a professor in George Washington University; Munroe Smith and Henry Smith Munroe, professors in Columbia University are all descended from William. There are other distinguished descendants. Those directly descended from Josiah Munroe will be mentioned in subsequent chapters of this genealogy. Readers who may be interested in Munroes, not represented by the Josiah line, should consult The Book of the Lockes by John G. Locke (the part referring to the Munroes reprinted in a pamphlet as The Munroe Genealogy), The History of the Munroes by Alexander Mackenzie, and A Sketch of the Munroe Clan by James Phinney Munroe.

20. John, born March 10, 1666, at Lexington, Massachusetts, married a woman named Hannah, with issue—(1) John, (2) Jonithan, (3) William, (4) Jonas, (5) Merritt, (6) Hannah, (7) Constance, (8) Elizabeth, (9) Susanna, and (10) Martha. John died September 14, 1753.

21. Martha, born Nov. 2, 1667, at Lexington; married January 21, 1688, John Comme of Concord with issue—(1) John, (2) David, (3) Hannah, (4) Martha, (5) Elizabeth, and (6) Abigail. Martha died March 27, 1730.

22. William, born October 10, 1669; married (1) Mary Cutler and (2) Johanna Russell, with issue—(1) William, (2) Thomas, (3) David, (4) Philip, (5) Mary, (6) Abigail, (7) Ruth, (8) Hannah, and (9) Johanna. William died January 2, 1759.

23. George, born about 1671. He was a non-commissioned officer of the rank of sargeant in the colonial forces. He married Sarah Harrington, with issue—(1) William, (2) George, (3) Robert, (4) Samuel, (5) Andrew, (6) Sarah, (7) Dorothy, (8) Lydia, and (9) Lucy. George died January 17, 1749.

Children of William and Mary Munroe, No. 19. (Second Marriage)

24. Daniel, born August 12, 1673; married a woman named Dorthy, with issue (1) Daniel, (2) Jedediah, (3) John, (4) Sarah, and (5) Dorthy. Daniel died February 26, 1734.

25. Hannah, who married December 21, 1692, Joseph Peirce, with issue—five sons and three daughters.

26. Elizabeth, who married Thomas Rugg, with issue—eleven children born between 1691 and 1714.

27. Mary, born June 24, 1678; married about 1700, Joseph Fassett, with issue—one son, (1) Joseph.

✓ 28. David, our ancestor, born October 6, 1680, at Lexington; married a woman named Deborah; died June 9, 1755, at Canterbury, Connecticut. Deborah died there September 1, 1748. For their children, see Nos. 33 to 43.

29. Eleanor, born February 24, 1683; married August 21, 1706, William Burgess, with issue—four children.

30. Sarah, born March 18, 1685; married about 1707, George Blanchard, with issue

31. Joseph, born August 16, 1687; married a woman named Elizabeth, with issue—(1) Joseph, (2) Nathan, (3) Joshua, (4) Nathaniel, (5) Amos, (6) Elizabeth, (7) Abigail, (8) Mary, (9) Eleanor, (10) Kezia, and (11) Hannah. Joseph died in 1787, in his hundredth year.

32. Benjamin, born August 16, 1690; married (1) a woman named Abigail, with issue—(1) Benjamin, (2) Lydia, (3) Abigail, (4) Rebecca, (5) Sarah, (6) Martha, (7) Mary, (8) Anne, (9) Eunice, and (1) Kezia. He married (2) the widow of John Estabrook, but without issue. Benjamin died April 6, 1765.

IV.—THE MUNROES OF CANTERBURY, CONNECTICUT.

David (No. 28), son of William and Mary Munroe (No. 19), was born at Cambridge Farms, now Lexington, Massachusetts, October 6, 1680, and grew to manhood there. There is a record of his baptism March 26, 1699, at nearly the same time with several of his brothers and sisters.

At this time emigration was setting in from the colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay to Connecticut. Six years later, David's first child was born at Canterbury. During this interval he married Deborah ——— and established his home in the new settlement at Canterbury, Connecticut.

We learn the first name of his wife from the records of their children's birth. There seems to be no record of this marriage, due doubtless to the fact that the Rev. John Hancock, strangely enough, though he was pastor at Lexington for fifty years, did not record his marriages. The first marriage found in the records of this church was not until 1734, when the Rev. Ebenezer Hancock became colleague pastor with his father. At Canterbury the church was not organized till 1711, and the first marriage recorded was in 1712.

Canterbury was endowed with town privileges in 1703. David's arrival must have been nearly contemporaneous with this event. At that time the town contained only ten families, "but their character and circumstances made amends for the smallness of their number."

A deed dated December 15, 1714, and recorded at Canterbury February 22, 1715, conveys land from Samuel Adams and Obadiah Johnson to "David Munroe of Canterbury."

David and Deborah his wife united with the church at Canterbury, April 1, 1722.

He is twice mentioned in connection with events related in the history of Windham county; April 30, 1723 an arrangement was carried out for the division of certain common lands by which David Munroe was one of those to receive one and a half shares each, as being among those "who were settled inhabitation and paid to ye building of ye meeting house and ministers home." These buildings were completed in 1711.

In 1743 the church at Canterbury became dissatisfied with its minister, Mr. Adams, on account of a sermon by him from 1 Cor. 10:31, and a committee was appointed to visit him. Their report is dated September 7, 1743. They informed the minister that his people were dissatisfied with his sermons "in that they imply that man hath a power to glorify God not implying that the new birth is necessary."

In vain Mr. Adams explained that "in opening the text he did show that the apostle writ to christians."

At a meeting called to consider this report, September 12, David Munroe and five others put in a written protest over their own signatures in which they declared that those who were opposing the minister "did it to make themselves strong and were still fond of their own wills and put the society to great charge by their illegal acts." This unexpected action on the part of these brethren so aroused the church that a meeting was called to consider it, at which a committee was appointed "to see what their fault was in order to tell them their fault in order to restore them." The committee reported that "they were guilty of evil surmising, irregular and unchristian treatment, and disorderly behavior toward the church." But as the six brethren refused either to repent or retract, a letter was sent to them "for their conviction" and the matter was dropped. Their protest, however, proved unavailing and the minister was dismissed.

David died June 19, 1755, his wife Deborah having preceded him September 1, 1748. David's will, probated September 8, 1755 follows:

Dated Canterbury, February, 9th day, 1753.

I David MunRow of Canterbury in the County of Windham and Colony of Conneticut in New England, being very sick and weak of body, but in perfect mind and memory, having a desire to settle my estate which God and his good Providence hath given me, and knowing and being sensible of the mortality of my body, and that all men must dye, I give and resign my soul to God that gave it, and my body to the earth to be decently buried, and at the discretion of my executors hereafter named. I give and bequeath all my husbandry tools to my four sons to be equally divided among them and I do give to my six daughters all the remainder of my movable estate after my death and funeral charges are paid to be equally divided among them.

And I having given to my son David MunRow a part of my land containing about 50 acres as his part of my land. And I give unto my son Samuel MunRow fourteen acres of land adjoining the house Samuel MunRow now lives in together with the house standing thereon. And I give all the remainder of my lands to my two sons William and Josiah MunRow. And I do appoint my two sons David and William MunRow to be executors to this my last will and to ratify and confirm this my last will and Testament and I do hereby revoke and make Null and Void all other Wills and Testaments. In Witness and Confermation hereof I sd. David MunRow have to these presents set my hand and seal to the date mentioned.

Sealed and dated in Presents of us Johnnithan Shaw, Stephen Frost, Lydia Hyde, (X) her mark.

David Munrow.

V.—OUR COMMON ANCESTOR, JOSIAH MUNROE.

Jcsiah (No. 43), a son of David and Deborah Munroe (No. 28) was born at Canterbury, Connecticut, September 11, 1728.

A record of his baptism conflicts with that of his birth. Two records of his marriage conflict with each other, and both are probably erroneous. Certain it is, that he married at Canterbury, Sarah Hyde, near the beginning of the year 1752. He inherited in 1755, a portion of his father's estate, and may have lived upon it.

Nothing further is known of his life until the breaking out of the Revolutionary war. As the news of the battle of Lexington spread, the local militia everywhere fell in, in large numbers under their own officers, and, without waiting for orders or authority, marched for the scene of conflict. This action was afterwards legalized and lists made of the soldiers who went. The spontaneous character of the service is indicated by the language used; and Josiah Munroe was one of those who from Canterbury, "Marched for the relief of Boston in the Lexington alarm." On this occasion he held the rank of sergeant and was in the service eight days, in April, 1775.

July 11, 1775, he enlisted as a private in the 7th company of the 8th regiment, afterwards adopted into the continental army. In September his regiment was ordered to Boston, where it remained till the expiration of the term of service, and Josiah was discharged December 15, 1775.

The following year Captain Timothy Bachus organized in Canterbury a company of "Independent Veterans" of which Josiah was a member. This company did duty at New London in September, and in October at West Chester, N. Y.

April 14, 1777, he enlisted "to serve during the war" in Captain Elisha Lee's company of the 4th Connecticut regiment of the Continental Line, commanded by Col. John Durkee. His regiment went into camp at Peekskill. In September it joined Washington's army in Pennsylvania and "marched in the Connecticut Brigade" under General Mc Dougall. At Germantown, October 4, they fought on the left flank. Later his regiment was assigned to Varnum's Brigade and engaged in the desperate defense of Fort Mifflin, November 12 to 16. They wintered at Valley Forge where Josiah died in camp February 19, 1778.

A constant tradition of his death in camp in the service of the Continental army has come down among the descendants of his son, David; and his death in February, 1778, is recorded in a little memorandum kept during her lifetime by his daughter, Sarah, and now in the possession of Mrs. Daniel T. Bennett, of Marilla, N. Y.

The record of Josiah's last enlistment and death was obtained from the war department in the following letter.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

Washington, November 2, 1911.

Respectfully returned to Mr. B. A. Dunn,

801 N. County St.

Waukegan, Illinois.

The records of this office show that one Josiah Munroe served as a private in Captain Elisha Lee's Company, 4th Connecticut Regiment, commanded by Colonel John Durkee, Revolutionary war. He enlisted April 14, 1777, to serve during the war, and died February 19, 1778. Nothing further relative to him has been found of record.

F. C. Ainsworth,

The Adjutant General.

Per 4.

The record of Josiaa's pervious service in the Connecticut Militia was obtained principally from the published volume, Connecticut Men in the Revolution. I have been particular to give the above letter from the war department, because in this volume, on page 188 is found exactly the same record, but the first name is Joseph instead of Josiah. Inasmuch as there was but one Joseph Monroe from Connecticut in the Revolutionary war, whose record I also have from the Adjutant General's office at Hartford, Connecticut, and who survived the war; and since the record referred to on page 188 of Connecticut Men in the Revolution actually is the record of Josiah and not of Joseph, I assume that the name Joseph is there an error, and should have been Josiah.

In Volume XII of the publication of the Connecticut Historical Society, Josiah's name is found on page 64 in a list from Canterbury of "men died in the service hired for three years and during the war."

Apparently Josiah died intestate; and no inventory of his estate is to be found on the probate records. But at a session of the Probate court for the district of Plainfield held July 6, 1779, "the widow Sarah Munrow, administratrix of the estate of Mr. Josiah Munrow, late of Canterbury, deceased, exhibited into Court on account of Sundry Debts and Costs found to be due" an order, "for the distribution of said estate to be paid by the several heirs as follows—to rates paid Mr. Gordon, 4, 4, 1; to the distributors, 14, 8, 1; to the Court of Probate, 4, 4, 0 in Continental money." The figures were for pounds, shillings and pence.

The widow, Sarah Munroe, was born September 12, 1733. She married Deacon Jonas Bond of Canterbury, March 18, 1793, and died, probably at Canterbury, February 13, 1794.

55. Sarah, born January 28, 1774, at Canterbury, and died December 29, 1848, at Pawlet, Vermont.

VI.—THE NATHAN MONROE LINE.

Nathan Monroe (No. 44) is the progenitor of the Monroes of Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania. His wife, Mehetible Seymour, was descended from Richard Seymour, who came from Berry Pomeroy, Devonshire, England, to Hartford, Connecticut, in 1652. Her father was Stephen Seymour and her mother Mehetible Hickox, daughter of Capt. Samuel Hickox.

What is now the Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania, was claimed and settled by the Susquehanna Company, organized under the laws of Connecticut, and most of the early settlers were from Windham, Hartford, and Litchfield counties, Connecticut, and Berkshire county, Massachusetts. The district was known as Westmorland county, and it ranked with the other Connecticut counties and sent its delegates to the colonial assembly. After the Revolutionary war, when Wyoming Valley became a part of the state of Pennsylvania, the name of the county was changed to Luzerne. Westmorland county was sub-divided into 17 certified townships; and the most southerly of the original townships in the Wyoming Valley was Huntington, which was the habitat of Nathan Monroe and all of his early descendants.

Nathan came to the Wyoming Valley with a company of Windham county settlers first in 1776. He returned to Canaan, Litchfield county, Connecticut, in the early summer of 1778, just before the terrible Indian massacre. He came to the Valley again about 1786, and spent several years in Huntington getting a tract of land in shape for tillage. With his wife and five children he left Canaan in December, 1793, for his new home. His household goods were packed on sleds drawn by oxen. Some weeks were spent with his brother, William (No. 49) at Otsego, near Cooperstown, New York, and the party reached Huntington in early March, 1794. Here he died two years later. His farm which was on Huntington Creek, just below the present village of Huntington Mills, is still in possession of his descendants.

Huntington township was named for Samuel Huntington of Windham county, Connecticut, one of the officers of the Susquehanna Company. The township was first settled in 1775 by Col. John Franklin, who "erected a log cabin and spent the summer of 1775 alone in the wilderness, not beholding the face of a white man for months." Col. Franklin was from Canaan, as were the Ransoms and other families with whom Nathan was associated during his preliminary visits to the Valley. This fact doubtless explains why he returned to Canaan rather than to Canterbury for temporary residence during the disturbed times in the new county.

Four of his children married and reared families, and accounts of these will be given in subsequent sections. His daughter, Mary Seymour Monroe, familiarly known as "Aunt Polly," never married. She was the genealogist of the family, and the descendants of Nathan owe her a large debt of gratitude for the early family records and traditions which she left. In her Sketches of Huntington Valley, the late Mrs. M. L. T. Hartman says of "Aunt Polly:" "She lived to an advanced age, unmarried, but respected and useful. Her uniform piety and Christian character were beacon lights during many years, and after her death referred to as guides and exemplars."

The total number of Nathan's descendants is 1,444, of which number 1,124 are living. In the Tarbel Monroe branch there are 379 descendants, with 307 living; in the Truman Monroe branch, 227, with 179 living; the Sophronia (Monroe) Dodson branch, 45, with 30 living, and in the Esther (Monroe) Rood, 792, with 708 living. It will thus be seen that the maximum procreative power is attained in the Esther branch and the minimum in the Sophronia branch.

In the matter of geographic distribution, of the 1,124 living descendants of Nathan, 976 reside in the state of Pennsylvania; 43 in Kansas; 14 in Washington; 13 in Montana; 12 in New York; 11 in New Jersey; 10 in West Virginia; 7 in Illinois; 5 in Wisconsin; 5 in Indiana; 4 in Connecticut; 4 in Nebraska; 3 in Massachusetts; 3 in Michigan; 3 in Ohio; 3 in Colorado; 2 in Oregon; 2 in Oklahoma; and 1 in each of the following: Utah, Iowa, South Dakota, Canada, and France.

(A) THE TARBEL MONROE BRANCH

Tarbel Monroe (No. 56) married Mercy Chapin, a daughter of John C. and Hannah (Rockwood) Chapin, who came with their twelve children to Huntington township from Connecticut during the last years of the eighteenth century. As Tarbel's father died when he was sixteen years old, he became the nominal head of the family. Of his nine children, eight married and reared families. Most of them established farms in Huntington township, although several located in the northern part of the township, now known as Fairmount, which was taken from Huntington in 1834.

Two of his daughters married Bostons, whose husbands were descended from Sargeant Jacob Boston who served under Capt. Bittenbender during the suppression of Whiskey Insurrection in 1794.

Tarbel's descendants number 379, and of this number 307 are living, and 280 reside in Pennsylvania. Most of them live in Luzerne, Columbia and Wyoming counties, and they are chiefly engaged in agricultural pursuits.

(B) THE TRUMAN MONROE BRANCH

Truman Monroe, (No. 57), the second son of Nathan and Mehetible (Seymour) Monroe, married Kezirah, a daughter of Samuel and Mary (Ransom) Franklin. Samuel was born at Canaan, Connecticut, the 20th of May, 1772. He was the son of John and Kezirah (Pierce) Franklin, and his father was a cousin of Benjamin Franklin, the statesman and philosopher. Samuel's brother, Col. John Franklin, served in the Revolutionary and Pennamite wars "with all the bold, cool energy characteristic of the Franklins," notes General Clinton B. Sears. Col. John was the first settler (1775) in Huntington township, which was the early "nesting place" of the Monroes. His father had four sons and four daughters, all of whom, except one son, Silas—who remained on the homstead at Canaan—located in the Wyoming Valley.

Col. John Franklin served in the 24th regiment of the Connecticut militia during the Revolutionary war. He was a member of the Connecticut assembly from Westmorland district, and held numerous posts of honor. Mrs. Hartman says of him: "His zeal for right and justice, his hatred of wrong and oppression, his courage to maintain his views against the conviction or sophistry of his opponents, were proved by years of untiring devotion to the cause of Wyoming." For an account of the role played by Col. Franklin in the early history of Wyoming Valley, see Chapman's Bloody Oath. It is to be regretted that no Franklin descendant has so far undertaken the task of compiling a genealogy of this distinguished family.

Kezirah (Franklin) Monroe's mother Mary was a daughter of Samuel and Esther (Lawrence) Ransom. Samuel was a captain in the continental army, and was killed at the massacre of Wyoming the 3rd of July 1778. He was born at Middleboro, Massachusetts, the 10th of April 1738. He was married May 6, 1756, Esther Lawrence, daughter of Lieut. Daniel Lawrence and Rachel Kingsbury. Esther was born in Windham county, Connecticut, about 1739, and died August 1794. After the death of Capt. Ransom, she married Capt. James Bidlock, Sr. Daniel was born April 22, 1702, at Groton, Massachusetts. He married Rachel May 31, 1725, and died at Plainfield, Connecticut, January 27, 1790. Rachel was a daughter of Ephraim and Phebe (Main) Kingsbury. She was born April 16, 1705, and died March 3, 1767.

Capt. Samuel Ransom's father, Robert Ransom, was born at Plymouth, Massachusetts, September 15, 1695, and died at Middleboro, Massachusetts, May 23, 1745. He married May 27, 1729, Sarah Childs. Capt. Samuel Ransom's grandfather was also named Robert Ransom. He was born about 1668; married about 1690, Anna, daughter of Deacon John and Anna Waterman, of Plymouth, and died April 27, 1723. Anna was born about 1649 and died February 9, 1720. The great-grandfather of Capt. Samuel was Robert and Susanna (Plympton) Ransom, of Plymouth, Massachusetts. He was born about 1637, presumptively in England and died at Plymouth, Massachusetts, December 14, 1697. Susanna died there December 23, 1697. The late General Clinton B. Sears collected the above records, after the publication of his excellent Genealogical Record of the Descendants of Captain Samuel Ransom of the Continental Army (published in 1882,) and just before his death he prepared them for publication in the present work.

Two of Truman's children—Eliza (No. 438) and William Seymour (No. 439)—married children of Zerah Marvin, a preacher of the Baptist church and "a much respected citizen whose pious character stood the test of a long life." Zerah's father Uriah Marvin was one of the early settlers of the Wyoming Valley. Samuel Franklin (No. 440) married Sylvina Brandon, whose Scotch-Irish ancestors were among the first settlers of Fairmount township. Sybol (No. 442) married Nelson Gregory, whose ancestor, Peter Gregory, was one of the earliest settlers near Shickshinny. Mary, (No. 443,) married Lot Fink, whose ancestors settled in the part of Huntington that became Union township in 1813.

Ranson Monroe (No. 444) married Emeline Womelsdorf, a daughter of Jordan and Mary (Bellas) Womelsdorf. Jordan was born August 11, 1811, at Swinfordtown, Berks County, Pennsylvania; married Mary Bellas November 8, 1832; died November 20, 1893. Mary was born October 13, 1814, and died March 10, 1866. Emeline (Womelsdorf) Monroe's grandfather Samuel Womelsdorf was born about 1775, at Womelsdorf, Berks County, Pennsylvania. He married about 1802, Mary Fryer, and died September 15, 1827. Mary Fryer was born about 1776 and died June 10, 1852. Emeline (Womelsdorf) Monroe's maternal grandparents were Adam and Elizabeth (Croop) Bellas.

Truman Monroe's descendants number 227; of this number 179 are living, and 143 reside in Pennsylvania. Will S. Monroe, author and educator, (No. 622), who has collaborated in the compilation of this genealogy, is a grand-son of Truman.

(C) THE SOPHRONIA (MONROE) DODSON BRANCH

Nathan's daughter Sophronia, (No. 59), married John Dodson, a son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Rhodes) Dodson. John was born February 26, 1771. He married (1) July 6, 1797, Clarissa Harrison. By this union eleven children were born to him, one of his sons being the late Stephen Harrison Dodson, (1814-1904), a respected citizen of Huntington township. Clarissa died December 22, 1820, and he married Sophronia Monroe, who bore him nine children.

The ancestors of John Dodson were English Quakers who came to Burlington, New Jersey, in 1667. His grandfather settled near Philadelphia and joined the Moravian Brethren. John came to Huntington from Mahanoy Valley (Penn township), Northumberland county, Pennsylvania, in 1791. He was the most public spirited and best known citizen of the township, and devoted himself with great zeal, not only to the rearing of his twenty children, but to matters of public education and civic improvement. He was cultivated, hospitable, and courtly, and was familiar known as "Gentleman John."

Although he reared a numerous family—eight sons and one daughter by his marriage with Sophronia Monroe—his descendants number only 45. Two of his sons—Charles Millard (No. 671) and Joseph Seymour (No. 672)—are living. All his children became distinguished and useful citizens. Several of them formed the Weston Dodson Coal Company, an important industrial organization at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. His son Nathan (No. 666), was a prominent physician at Berlin, Wisconsin, and Nathan's son, John Milton Dodson, (No. 679), is a professor of medicine and dean of the medical faculty of the University of Chicago. A genealogy of the Dodson family was recently published by Thomas P. Egie.

(D) THE ESTHER (MONROE) ROOD BRANCH

Esther, (No. 60), was the youngest daughter of Nathan Monroe but her offspring number more than half of all of his descendants. She married while young Ira Rood and had twelve children, all of whom lived to marry and have children. Ira Rood probably came to the Wyoming Valley from Canaan, Connecticut, and the Canaan Roods were from Norwich, Connecticut. He settled in what is now Ross township, which was taken from Union and Lehman townships in 1842.

Of Esther's 792 descendants, 708 are living. 641 reside in Pennsylvania, 28 in Kansas, and the rest are found scattered in New York, West Virginia, New Jersey, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Oklahoma and Colorado. As already noted, the Esther Rood branch represents the maximum of procreative power in the history of the Monroe family, and it is probably unequalled in the annals of genealogy.

VII.—THE ELIZABETH (MONROE) BENNETT LINE.

Two of Josiah Monroe's daughters married sons of James Bennett. Elizabeth (No. 46) married Samuel Bennett, who was a soldier in the Connecticut line during the Revolutionary war. He served in Captain Abel's Company and was taken a prisoner at Fort Washington. Neither the date of his birth nor the date of his death has been discovered; but in his application for a pension (dated 1831), he states his age as seventy-four years. Hence, he must have been born about 1757. The Bennett family resided in Windham county, Connecticut. In 1784 Samuel and his wife removed to Pawlet, Vermont, where they died.

Their only child, Elizabeth, (the second name may have been Rachel) married Benjamin Sage. He was descended from David Sage, who came from Wales to Middleton, Connecticut, in 1652. David was born in 1639; married Elizabeth Kirby, February, 1664, and died March, 1703. Their son, John, (born 1668) married Hannah Starr; their son Benjamin (born 1703) married Mary Allen; their son, Benjamin, (born 1725) married Abigail Blinn. Their son, Benjamin, (born 1754) was the father of Benjamin Sage (born 1774), who married Elizabeth Bennett.

Four children were the result of this union, but John Wesley (No. 1500) was killed by an explosion during a Fourth of July celebration when he was fourteen years old. The other children married and had families. The present genealogy gives all the descendants of the oldest son, Samuel Bennett, (No. 1499), and the youngest son, Benjamin, (No. 1502).

But it was not possible to get the records of the descendants of the daughter, Elizabeth, who is reported to have married the Rev. Horace Davis at Pawlet, Vermont, and shortly afterwards moved to Richland township, Oswego county, New York. From Richland "they went west about seventy years ago." One record says they went to Lenawee county, Michigan, and another record says to Waukesha county, Wisconsin. But careful investigation in both these localities failed to get track of any of their descendants, and the assumption is that they must have located elsewhere. Three children are reported to have been born them before they left Richland.

Of the 167 descendants of Elizabeth (Monroe) Bennett given in this work, 126 are living, and located in the following states: Minnesota, 20; Wisconsin, 19; Michigan, 16; New York, 11; Nebraska, 11; California, 9; Oregon, 9; Iowa, 6; Ohio, 4; Illinois, 4; Indiana, 3; North Dakota, 3; Rhode Island, 2; Texas, 1; and Canada, 6. The whereabouts of three are unknown.

VIII.—THE JOHN MONROE LINE.

John Monroe, (No. 47) was a soldier in the Revolutionary war. He enlisted (1) May 10, 1775, in the 2nd company, 5th regiment, of the Connecticut Continentals, and was discharged December 10, 1775; (2) May 13, 1776, in Capt. Walker's company, Col. Elmore's regiment, and (3) January 20, 1777, and was discharged January 20, 1780. His name is on the list of pensioners published by the United States government in 1832. He is the only one of Josiah's children that continued to live at Canterbury on the homestead established by his grandfather.

Of John's three children, but one lived to reach adulthood and marry. This was Amasa (No. 1655), who served in the war of 1812 in the 25th regiment of the Connecticut infantry, and died in the service. Amasa had three sons—Cornelius, Samuel, and John A.

Cornelius was a temperance lecturer and travelling evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal church. He married and had five children. Before the Civil war he is reported to have "gone west." All efforts to trace his descendants have thus far failed.

Samuel, who remained on the homestead at Canterbury, Connecticut, had five children, and all his descendants are given in the present work.

John A. joined a whaling fleet; and, in the early forties he settled at Glasgow, Scotland, where he learned the trade of a brass worker. He married Ann Campbell, and about 1850, returned to America and established a brass foundry at Norwich, Connecticut. The failure of his business venture and the homesickness of his wife led him to return to Scotland in 1852 or 1853. One child was born in America; but other children are reported to have been born after the return to Scotland. Efforts to locate these children have not been successful.

Of John's 87 descendants given in this genealogy, 58 are living, and all reside in New England—39 in Connecticut, 10 in Rhode Island, and 9 in Massachusetts.

IX.—THE WILLIAM MONROE LINE.

William Monroe, like several of his brothers, emigrated from Connecticut to Vermont, sometimes called "the new Connecticut." At Bennington he married about 1784 Deborah Pope, a daughter of Capt. Gershom Pope, who was a Revolutionary soldier and served in Capt. Hall's company, Major Bachus' regiment of light horse. He saw service in the northern campaign under Gates and Arnold, and for meritorious service was promoted to the rank of captain.

Capt. Gershom Pope was one of the seven sons of Seth Pope. He was born August 22, 1743; married 1762, Hannah Smith, and died in Otsego county, New York, March 22, 1810. Gershom's father, Seth Pope, was born January 3, 1701, and married Jerusha Toby. His grand-father, John Pope, was born October 23, 1665, and married Elizabeth Bourne. His great-grandfather was Seth Pope, and his great-great-grandfather was Thomas Pope, who was one of the Pilgrims of Plymouth, having emigrated from England to the Plymouth Colony in 1631.

Late in the year, 1789, or early in 1790, * Gershom Pope, "accompanied by his seven stalwart sons and four sons-in-law," (one of the latter being William Monroe), took up his residence in what is now known as Otsego county, New York. He purchased 240 acres of land in the present township of Burlington; and, with his numerous children and grandchildren, "added to the population and resources of the newly settled township in the wilderness."

* In the first national census, taken April, 1790, William Monroe's residence is given as Otsego, New York.

William had six children, all of whom married and reared families. Sarah the oldest, married Harmon May, a son of Joseph May. Joseph was born February 28, 1743, and married November 17, 1768, Lois Child. His father was Joshua May, born October 16, 1716, and married January 20, 1742, Anna Bacon. Joshua's father was John May, born May 19, 1663; married February 24, 1730, Prudence Bridge, John's father was John May, born in England in 1631; married November 19, 1656, Sarah Brewer Bruce, and died September 11, 1671. John emigrated with his father, John May, from Mayfield, county of Sussex, England, to Roxbury, Mass., about 1640. John May, the immigrant ancestor of the May family, was born in England in 1590, and died at Roxbury April 28, 1670.

Hannah, the second child, married David Chapin, who was probably descended from the Chapins of Springfield, Massachusetts. Samuel married Sabrina Woodard, a daughter of Joshua Woodward, of Burlington, New York, and for his second wife, Mrs. Mary (Babcock) Wooley. Jerusha married Elnathan Bennet, son of Nathan Bennett, who was born September 12, 1743, near Norwich, Connecticut; married March 1, 1778, Lydia Hyde of Canterbury, and died June 2, 1804, at Pawlet, Vermont. Two of Nathan's brothers—Samuel and Aaron—married William Monroe's sisters, Elizabeth and Lydia.

One of the descendants of Elnathan and Jerusha (Monroe) Bennet was Mrs. Maria (Davis) Pitman, (No. 1941), a well-known writer. Under the nom de plume of "Margery Deane," Mrs. Pitman published many stories of high literary merit. She travelled widely in Europe and wrote travel-letters to some of the leading newspapers of Boston and New York. A volume of travel sketches entitled, "European Breezes," has been characterized by a competent critic as "a capital picture of foreign incidents, related in a graceful and brilliant manner."

Josiah married Anna Ray, and Hassan married Olive Lusk Nash, a daughter of Daniel Nash, (Priest Nash, as he was familiarly called). Daniel Nash was an important personality in the early history of Otsego and Chenango counties, in New York. He was born in 1763; graduated from Yale College in 1785, and died in 1836. He was several years principal of academies in New Jersey and New York; and in 1797 he left the Congregational church, with which he had previously been identified, and connected himself with the Protestant Episcopal church. For more than forty years he was engaged in educational and missionary labors in Otsego and Chenango counties.

William's descendants number 359, and of this number 276 are living. They are pretty widely scattered throughout the United States. The geographic distribution of the living descendants by states is as follows: Iowa, 60; New York, 53; California, 48; Ohio, 26; Illinois, 25; Pennsylvania, 11; Oregon, 10; Tennessee, 7; Nebraska, 6; Wisconsin, 4; Michigan, 4; Minnesota, 4; New Mexico, 4; Washington, 4; Georgia, 2; Canada, 2; Indiana, 1; Idaho, 1; Florida, 1; and North Dakota, 1.

X.—THE JOSIAH MUNROE (SECOND) LINE.

Josiah Munroe (No. 50) grew to manhood at Canterbury, Connecticut, the place of his birth. When only seventeen years of age he enlisted, May 16, 1781, in Captain James Dana's company in the "Battallion ordered to be raised for the defense of the post at Horseneck and places adjacent," commanded by Brig. General Waterbury. There is no record of his discharge, but in his application for pension, he is said to have served two years. A Josiah Munroe, probably himself, enlisted November 17, 1783, in Captain Benjamin Durkee's company of Matrosses, Connecticut troops, and was discharged February 26, 1784. He was placed on the pension roll November 19, 1833, as a private in Connecticut Militia.

In 1784, Josiah emigrated to Pawlet, Vermont, probably in company with Asa Andrus and his sons, and Samuel and Aaron Bennett.

He married, probably in Connecticut, Susanna, a daughter of Asa and Betsey (Fitch) Andrus, and sister of Anna, his brother David's wife, (No. 52.)

In Pawlet he was known as "Captain Josiah." In a history of Pawlet he is included in a list of revolutionary soldiers and is said to have been held in great respect and esteem."

Three silver spoons, marked S. M., once the property of Susanna Munroe, are now in possession of Mrs. Jessie M. Rusk, of Pontiac, Ill.

The descendants of Josiah number 200, of whom 158 are living.

Josiah and his wife, Susanna, are buried at Pawlet, Vermont.

(B) THE JESSE MUNROE BRANCH.

Near the close of the war of 1812, Jesse Munroe enlisted in a New York regiment and served three months.

After his marriage, February 5, 1816, he emigrated from Pawlet, Vermont, in company with Elnathan Bennet, (No. 1755,) who stopped on the way at Burlington, New York, and married Jerusha, daughter of William Monroe, and cousin of Jesse. They located on adjoining farms in Amherst, (now Cheek-tawaga), on the Batavia road, five miles east of Buffalo, New York, building a double log house on the line, which is still fondly remembered by several living descendants as the place of their birth.

In 1836, Jesse removed to Eagle, Clinton county, Michigan. Passing through an almost unbroken wilderness, he located on a farm which is still owned by his descendants. Here he was held in great respect; and when he died at an advanced age, his funeral, which occurred in the dead of winter, is said to have been attended by the largest concourse of people ever gathered at a funeral in Clinton county.

He raised a large family, most of whom survive; and who are remarkably alike for their great age, their mental and physical vigor, and the great esteem in which they have ever been held. His descendants number 92, of whom 86 are still living.

XI.—THE LYDIA (MUNROE) BENNETT LINE.

At what time Lydia Munroe, (No. 51,) came to Pawlet, Vermont from Canterbury, Connecticut, it is impossible to say, Aaron Bennett, however, came in 1784, probably in company with his brother, Samuel, and with Lydia's brother, Josiah. Aaron and Lydia were married at their own future home on the old Bennett homestead in Pawlet, December 30, 1789. He was the son of James and Mary Bennett. He enlisted June 12, 1776, in Colonel Bradley's Battalion "raised for the defense of the State," Connecticut militia. He took part in the defense of Fort Washington, where he was taken prisoner upon the fall of the Fort, November 16, and was discharged on the same day.

In Pawlet, himself and wife were highly respected, and are still remembered for their benevolence and piety. They raised a family of five children, three of whom left numerous descendants, numbering altogether 337, of whom 268 are living.

XII.—THE DAVID MUNROE LINE.

David Munroe, (No. 52) next younger than Josiah and Lydia, seems to have come from Canterbury to Pawlet, Vermont, a few years later than they, and to have remained there but a short time. Soon after his marriage he settled at Cooperstown, New York, and about 1800 removed to Penfield, New York, where his wife, Anna, died and is buried. In 1836, he sold a magnificent farm and came with his children to Pittsford, Hillsdale county, Michigan. He was for many years a deacon in the Baptist church at Penfield, and has been described by a granddaughter as "a noble man of Scotch descent, of generous impulses and strong religious convictions." He was a large man and his strength was said to have been equal to that of any two of his neighbors.

His will, which was executed only three days before his death, bequeathed to his son, Lester, "the farm on which he now resides, known and designated as the west half of the North East fourth of Sec. 32," in Pittsford township. To his son, Linus, he bequeathed "the lot on which I now live, being the west half of the North West fourth of Sec. 28, in said township." To Philenda he bequeathed "the lot of land adjoining on the east." To Philenda he also gave "all the household furniture, which belonged to her mother, and also all that the said Philenda has made or prepared herself." He also disposed of stock, teams and tools, and $1,150 in money, mentioning all his children and his "grandson, Jason Corwin." "James H. Thorn, my son-in-law," was made executor of the will.

A plainly legible tombstone marks his grave, in the Goodrich cemetery, two and a half miles west of Hudson, Michigan. It reads:

DAVID MUNROE

Died

July 31, 1837,

In His 69th Year.

The total number of David Munroe's descendants is 348, of whom 263 are still living.

(A) THE LESTER MUNROE BRANCH.

Lester Munroe, (spelled in the records Leicester) enlisted at Penfield, New York, January 2, 1814, in Caleb Herrington's company, 52nd New York militia. On account of sickness he was discharged January 14. In April following he reenlisted, serving under Captains Bancroft and Clark, and Colonels Upson and Dobson. He was in the battles of Chippewa, Lundy's Lane and Fort Erie. On one occasion during a retreat he engaged in a deadly hand to hand conflict with a British soldier, who endeavored to take him prisoner, but made his escape, leaving his antagonist dead in the woods. Again falling ill, he was granted a furlough for 20 days, at the expiration of which, not having recovered, his father, David Munroe, reported for him. There is no record of his discharge.

He drew a pension from 1874 till his death in 1890. His last pension voucher, which was never filled out is in the possession of Leo C. Northrup of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Lester removed to Pittsford, Michigan, in 1835, and later resided in Branch and Ottawa counties. He was an enthusiastic christian worker, and was instrumental in the organization of many of the Baptist churches in southern and western Michigan. He is buried in the village cemetery at Kalamo, Michigan. His descendants number 140. Of these 99 are living, the majority of whom reside in Michigan.

(B) THE PHILENDA (MUNROE) PHILLIPS BRANCH.

Philenda was the oldest daughter of David Munroe. He never married again after the early death of his wife, Anna, at Penfield, New York, in 1817. From the manner in which he mentions Philenda in his will it is evident that she became, after her mother's death, her father's house-keeper and mistress of his home. During her father's life-time she did not marry, but after his death she married James Philips and settled near her brothers, in Pittsford, Michigan, where they lived and died. Both are buried in the Goodrich cemetery. Their descendants number only 11 of whom 9 are living.

(C) THE LYMAN MUNROE BRANCH.

Lyman Munroe died at Gaines, New York, just previous to the removal of his father's family to Michigan. The widow went, with her infant daughter, to her people at Pickering, Ontario, where the youngest child was born April 24, 1836, and named after his deceased father. The oldest child, Jason Corwin, then only four years of age, was an especial favorite with his grand-father, David, who took him with him to his new home in Pittsford, Michigan, promising that he would, the following year, take him to his mother in Ontario. The death of David prevented him from fulfilling this promise. Jason was remembered in his grand-father's will. He was reared in the family of his uncle Linus, and did not see his mother, brother or sister for thirty years. The descendants of Lyman Munroe mostly reside in eastern Michigan. They number 47, of whom 33 are living.

(D) THE LINUS MUNROE BRANCH.

Linus Munroe was a tanner and currier by trade and operated a boot and shoe store in connection. He sold his prosperous business near Rochester, New York, on account of failing health, and in August, 1836, came with his father and their families to the wilds of Michigan, whither one brother and a sister had preceded them the year before. Linus located on the land which he inherited from his father, in Pittsford, Hillsdale county, where he continued to reside until his death, and which is still in the possession of his descendants.

It is said that "he never talked to his children about his childhood," and that "he regretted coming to Michigan and leaving his good home." Linus and his wife, Lucy, are buried in the Goodrich cemetery. Their descendants number 75, of whom 64 are living.

(E) THE MARY (MUNROE) THORN BRANCH.

Mary Munroe came with her father and other members of the family, in August, 1836, from Penfield, New York, to Pittsford, Hillsdale county, Michigan. Two months later she married James H. Thorn. Of them a history of Lenawee county speaks as follows:

"James Henry Thorn was one of the early settlers of Hillsdale county and was very influential in shaping its affairs, his ripe judgment and keen intellectual powers making him a leader among men. He was born January 20, 1816, in Dutchess county, New York, and was quite young when his father died, leaving a large family in rather straightened circumstances. He, however, managed to secure a good education, which was useful to him in his busy and honorable career in after life. James H. Thorn remained in the state of New York until he was eighteen years of age and then ambitiously decided to go to some western territory and make a home and place for himself in the newly settled country. Actuated by that motive he came to Michigan in 1834, and stopped for a while in Detroit. From that place he went to Ypsilanti and from there to Farmington, Oakland county, where he taught school. In the spring of that year the school treasury was practically bankrupt and he was able to collect but $50 of the $100 due him. He then explored Bean Creek Valley in search of a suitable location to establish a home, and finally selected the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section thirteen, in what subsequently became Jefferson township. The government land office was at that time located at Monroe, where Mr. Thorn walked and entered his location with the land office. The date of his land entry was May 21, 1835, and he was informed by the agent that he had the entire township to choose a location from as he was the first entrant in that section. After paying the register's fee he found himself with but ten cents in money and the prospects of the walk back to his location. Nothing daunted by his lack of funds, his small coin was spent for cheese and crackers and the walk to Tecumseh was only an incident to one of the conquerors of the wilderness. In the spring of 1836, he commenced the improvement of his land by erecting a log cabin for habitation, and on the 15th of October of that year was married to Miss Mary Munroe, who became the mistress of this little home and whose devotion to his interest throughout their wedded life was equalled only by the fortitude with which she bore the privations of their pioneer days."

Their youngest son, James B. Thorn, is the only member of the family still residing in that community. He is familiarly known among his friends as "Colonel Thorn," a name given to him in his childhood by a friend of the family. He resides at Hudson, Michigan, where he has been prominent in public and business affairs for many years.

James H. and Mary Thorn are buried in the Goodrich cemetery, two miles west of Hudson. Their descendants number only 18, 16 of whom are living.

(F) THE SARAH (MUNROE) DUNN BRANCH.

Sarah, youngest daughter of David Munroe, married at Penfield, New York, in 1834, Archibald Dunn. The following year they emigrated to Hillsdale county, Michigan. In 1854, they removed to Cass county where they continued to reside and where they died at an advanced age, honored and lamented by all.

Many of their descendants still reside in the vicinity, though many are scattered. Two of their sons are still living. Frederick I., is a prominent business man in Bolckow, Missouri. Byron A., has achieved distinction as a journalist and author. His best known works are two series of books for boys, entitled: "The Young Kentuckian Series," and "The Young Missourian Series." In the civil war he received two wounds, first at Chickamauga, and later at Nashville, the latter breaking his right shoulder and disabling him for life. He resides at Waukegan, Illinois. Their two daughters, Mary and Anna, still reside in Cass county, Michigan, among their children and grandchildren.

XIV.—APPENDIX.

(A) ANCESTRY OF PRESIDENT JAMES MONROE.

The question most frequently asked in the preparation of this genealogy has been, "How are we related to President Monroe?" Our earliest American ancestor, William Monroe, as will be seen by consulting Chapter II, is descended from Sir George Munro, tenth Baron of Fowlis, through his son Hugh, Hugh's son John, John's son John Mor, John Mor's son Farquhar, and Farquhar's son Robert. President James Monroe's earliest American ancestor was Andrew Monroe. Andrew was descended from Sir Robert Munro, fourteenth Baron of Fowlis, through the latter's son George and George's son, David.

Andrew Monroe fought in the battle of Preston the 17th of May, 1648; was taken prisoner, and deported to America. He located in Maryland, and about 1650, he settled at Appomatox, (now Mattox,) Virginia. He died in 1668, leaving issue (according to a Westmorland County deed-book) as follows: I. Susanna. II. Elizabeth, who married Bunch Roe. III. Andrew, who m. (1) Eleanor Spence and (2) Sarah Elliot. He was Justice of the peace, with the rank of captain of the militia; b. about 1664, and d. 1714; will dated December 30, 1713, and proved May 26, 1714; issue by Eleanor Spence: (A). Spence, d. 1725, without issue. (B). Elizabeth. (C). Susanna m. first Wm. Linton, second Chas. Tyler, and third Capt. Benj. Grayson. (D). Andrew, who came of age in 1718, (court order); married Christina Tyler; was sheriff of Westmorland county; d. 1735, with issue: (a). Eleanor m. Dr. Jas. Bankhead. (b). Sarah m. Capt. Jos. Jones. (c). Spence m. Elizabeth Jones with issue: (1). Andrew; served in the navy; m. with issue: (i). Augustin admitted to Albermarle bar in 1817; (ii). James b. September 10, 1799. (2). Spence. (3). James, 5th President of the U. S., b. April 28, 1758. (4). Jos. Jones m. Elizabeth Kerr; was attorney general for Virginia; d. at Keytesville, Missouri; issue: (i). Harriet b. April 14, 1794; m. April 10, 1812, Edw. Blair Cabell. (5). Elizabeth m. Wm. Buchner. (d). Andrew m. first Jane Watts and second Martha Washington; will dated May 11, 1769, and proved March 27, 1770; issue: (1). John m. September 23, 1756, Jane Harrison; issue: (i). Elliott m. August 1, 1795, Susan Davis; (ii). John; (iii) Jane; (iv). Elizabeth m. December 27, 1786, Wm. Dishmen. (2). Jane. (3). Elizabeth. IV. William b. 1666; m. Sarah ———, will proved April 26, 1737, and children and grand-children named; issue: (A). Thomas; issue: (a). Thomas m. April 13, 1745, Catherine Hoe; issue (1). George b. September 3, 1747. (2). Thomas b. November 2, 1748. (3). Isabel b. November 12, 1751. (B). George; issue: (a). William. (C). Jean m. Payne; issue: (a). Daniel; (b). William. (D). Sarah m. Stone; issue: (a). Mary. (E). Andrew; issue: (a). Andrew; issue: (1). Benjamin. (2). James. (3). William. (4). Elizabeth m. Alex. Adair. (4). Rachel. (5). Polly m. Jos. Harden. (6). Thomas Bell b. October 27, 1791; m. Eliza Palmer Adair; issue: (i). Victor b. November 27, 1813; m. Mary Townsend Polk with issue Judge Frank Adair, who resides at 847 Carondelet street, New Orleans, Louisiana. (b. August 30, 1844); William W., b. September 9, 1841, and Thos. Bell b. November 24, 1848. (ii). John Adair. (iii). Andrew; (iv). Thomas Bell b. 1833, whose son Robert Grier (b. 1860,) is a prominent lawyer in New York City. (v). Benjamin. (vi). James. V. Mary. Not mentioned in the deed-book as she predeceased her father. She was buried January 15, 1661.

President Monroe's original American ancestor, Andrew, had five brothers and one sister—George, Alexander, Hector, John, Robert, and Janet. John was a clergyman, and followed Andrew to America, about 1660. (There is a tradition that Andrew visited Scotland and John returned with him.) John located at Norfolk Neck, Virginia. John had issue: I. Andrew, also a clergyman, who married Sarah Smith, with issue: (A). John m. Christine ———, d. September 23, 1725; issue: (a). Mary b. January 16, 1708; m. John Blair; died 1768; issue: (1). Christine b. 1727; m. 1744, Col. Armistead Burwell; d. 1784. (2). Mary b. April 1, 1730. (3). John Blair, b. 1731; was judge of U. S. Supreme Court; d. unmarried August 31, 1800. (4). Sarah b. February 19, 1736; m. Col. Wm. Miles Cary. (5). James b. 1741; m. Kitty Eustice; d. 1772. (6). Ann b. May 4, 1746; m. John Bannister. (7). Elizabeth m. 1769, Admiral Samuel Thomson of the Royal Navy. (B). Henrietta. (C). Sarah. (D). Mary. The Rev. Andrew is supposed to have had other children besides John. Barbara Monroe of Norfolk, presumably a granddaughter, m. April 11, 1759, Malcolm Bowie, and Mary Monroe, presumably a gt. gd. dau., m. September 8, 1797, John Haven. Andrew, son of Alex., b. October 29, 1792, in Hampshire county, Virginia, and d. at Mexico, Missouri, November 18, 1871, probably belonged to this family. He was a clergyman, the youngest of a family of eleven, four of whom were ministers of the M. E. church. The Monroes of Sullivan, Illinois, are probably descended from the same stock: John, (b. 1799), Robert, Jacob, and Joseph, (b. 1818). John had sons J. S. (b. 1837), and A. J. (b. 1837). J. S. Monroe of Sullivan, Illinois, had a son, W. C.

The Monroe slave owners in Westmorland county, Virginia, in 1782, were John, Jr., (38), Elliott (19), Benjamin (11), David (9), John (8), William (5), John, son of George (4), James (3), and William, Jr., (2). The Monroes' who were heads of families in Virginia in 1790, are John, Spence, and William, in Fairfax county; Alexander in Hampshire county; Matthias in Nausemond county; Daniel in Stafford county; John in Mecklenburg county; Joseph in Surry county, and Daniel in Frederick county.

(B) THE MUNROS OF BRISTOL, RHODE ISLAND.

There is a tradition that Thomas and John Munro settled at Bristol, Rhode Island, about the same time that our common ancestor, William Munroe, settled at Lexington, Massachusetts. Thomas Munro, possibly a son of the above Thomas, m. October 13, 1698, Mary Wormwell. Their son John, b. at Bristol, May 14, 1701, married April 29, 1728, Hannah Rothbotham (or Rosbathm), a granddaughter of Col. Benj. Church, with offspring—Comfort, b. March 22, 1729 (married Bowen); Nathan, b. September 29, 1730 and m. May 25, 1755, Mrs. Hannah Allen; Stephen, b. April 22, —; Rothbotham, b. February 9, 1733; Benjamin b. February 5, 1735; Elizabeth b. August 6, 1738, (married Carpenter), Samuel b. September 5, 1740; John b. December 23, 1742; Mary b. January 5, 1744; Alice b. January 1, 1746, and Thomas b. December 3, 1748.

Nathan, the second child of John and Hannah, was known as Major Nathan Munro, and during the Revolutionary war he had charge of a flotilla. Squire Munro, son of Nathan, was born at Rehoboth, Massachusetts, June 27, 1757; he lived at Cheshire, Massachusetts, until 1799, when he moved to Camillus, Onondaga county, New York. Fayette S. Munro, 1206 Marquette Bld'g, Chicago, is descended from Squire Munro through his son David, David's son David Allen, and David Allen's son Isaac. Squire's son, Nathan, b. March 6, 1791, m. Cynthia Champlin with offspring; George C. m. Elizabeth Leak; James m. Caroline Clark; Allen m. Julia I. Townsend; Edward; Cynthia m. John B. Burnet; Harriet m. Edward Townsend, and Egbert Rothbotham, the fourth child of John and Hannah m. Letosia Loid, and settled at Calway, New York, with offspring: Samuel b. March 28, 1758; Weightstill b. January 2, 1764; Olive b. September, 1765, and George. William Stanton Monroe, 64 East Elm street, Chicago, is descended from George, through George's son, Henry, and Henry's son, Henry Stanton Monroe.

John, the eighth child of John and Hannah Munro, m. Parthania Cornell, and their daughter Philema b. November, 30, 1796, m. October 15, 1827, Mason Cornell. Mrs. Frances C. C. Smith, of Central Village, Windham county, Connecticut, is a daughter of Mason and Philema (Munro) Cornell. Job Munro, a son of John and Parthania, was b. February 29, 1786, and m. Phoebe Collins with offspring: James b. July 18, 1821, who was many years a professor at Oberlin College and served several years as a member of Congress; Abel b. November 1, 1819, lived and died at Woonsocket, Rhode Island, and Thomas E., who was a Congregational minister at Akron, Ohio. Charles E. Monroe, a son of James, resides at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Stephen, the third child of John and Hannah, married three times—first Mehetible Gray and afterwards Sybil Wright. Benjamin, the sixth child of John and Hannah, m. first Mary Ormsberg and second Bethamy Luther. He died February 22, 1818. Professor Wilfred H. Munro, of Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island, Rev. H. Usher Munro, of North Andover, Massachusetts, and Charles Fabyan Monroe of Meriden, Connecticut, are descended from the Bristol Munros. Persons interested in this line of the family should communicate with Fayette S. Munro, Esq., 1296 Marquette Building, Chicago, Illinois.

(C) THE MONROES OF FAIRFIELD COUNTY, CONNECTICUT.

David Monroe settled at Norwalk, Connecticut, before 1690. His descendants believe he came there from Massachusetts. The birth of a daughter is recorded February, 1690; his name appears as a land grantee in 1691, and the list of voters for 1694 gives his name. Children were born to him there as follows:

Mary b. February, 1690; Elizabeth b. August, 1693, (m. Wood); Martha b. May, 1696; Christina b. April 6, 1699, (m. George Saunders); Susanna b. February 12, 1700; Experience b. February 9, 1702, (m. Norris); Amos b. May 9, 1704; Solomon b. January 31, 1705; Lavina b. January 31, 1707, (m. Morehouse); and Bethiah b. August 5, 1711, (m. James Bagley). David's will was probated March 1, 1731. He makes bequests to his daughter Elizabeth Wood, and his grandson David Wood, to his grandson David Monroe, "son of my son-in-law, Joseph Munrow;" to his daughter, Experience Norris, to his daughter, Beers; to his daughter, Lavina Morehouse, and to his son Amos.

David, "son of my son-in-law, Joseph Munrow," m. November 11, 1742, Sarah Meaker, with the following issue: Beniah b. May 15, 1743; Lydia b. February 11, 1745; David b. May 15, 1747;

Mary b. April 1, 1749; Sarah b. January 4, 1751, and d. March 28, 1751; Sarah (2nd) b. December 5, 1752; John b. January 2, 1755; Ellen b. March 3, 1757, and Joseph b. March 3, 1759. Joseph moved to Vista, Westchester county, New York, and m. Deborah Beers, with issue: Nathan, who m. 1772, Rebecca Scribner; Susanna, who m. May 21, 1778, John Faucher; Elizabeth, who m. October 14, 1765, Nathan Hull; Seeley, who served as a soldier in the Revolutionary war and died unmarried, and Joseph, Jr., who married Hannah Betts, with issue: Hiram, Samuel, Neahmiah, Sally, (who m. Henry Jones), and Hannah, (who m. Lewis Arnold). Nathan, who m. Rebecca Scribner, had issue as follows: Delia, who m. Amos Dickens; Eliza, who m. a man named Fairty; Nathan, Jr., who m. Sally Jarns, and Harvey b. September 27, 1795, who m. November 11, 1821, Sarah Jennings, with issue: Sarah Ann b. August 26, 1822, and Lucius Mortimer b. December 28, 1825, and m. January 13, 1852, Sally Waters with issue: Lucius Mortimer, Jr., b. February 18, 1859; Annie Lulu b. March 5, 1862, and m. Lewis C. Green of Norwalk, Connecticut, and is interested in this branch of the family, and Nellie Dot, b. March 23, 1866, and m. Harris B. Humison.

The David, b. May 15, 1747, mentions in his will, dated June 16, 1777, his wife Johanna and his six children—Sarah, John, Ellen, Joseph, Lyman, and Noah.

Joseph Monroe, son-in-law of the original David, of Norwalk, came of age in 1720. He had a brother Samuel, to whom he sold "a house and barn" in 1727. Jonithan and Elizabeth Monroe of Norwalk, sell land to Amos Monroe, September 30, 1739. The following marriages are recorded at Nowalk: Joseph Monroe m. November 15, 1735, Elizabeth Stuart. Joseph Monroe m. October 27, 1744, Esther Fountain. John Monroe m. October 30, 1766, Katherine Reed. The following are on record at Fairfield: Ebenezer Monroe m. January 1, 1751, Mary Durkin. Mary Monroe m. October 7, 1778, Daniel Bennet. Sarah Monroe m. January 27, 1782, Samuel King. Rebecca Monroe of Redding m. April 7, 1769, Andrew Knapp. Daniel Monroe of Stratford m. February 19, 1740, Sarah Foote, with offspring: Dorothy b. September, 1746, (m. May 31, 1768, Ashael Booth); Anna b.

September, 1748, (m. March 23, 1769, Andrew Beach), and Sarah b. September, 1754.

The census of 1790 gives the following Monroes who were heads of families residing in Fairfield county, Connecticut,—John, of Huntington; David, of Redding; and Joseph, William and Robert, of Ridgefield.

As already noted, one branch of the Norwalk family settled in Westchester county, New York. The records of Salem give the following marriages: Sarah Monroe m. October 22, 1792, Zadoc Brown; Polly Monroe m. July 23, 1782, Daniel Rassagie; Betsy Monroe m. May 25, 1801, Jared Rich; Nancy Monroe m. November 30, 1797, William Tomson, and Widow Monroe m. November 9, 1801, Job Rockwell.

The Monroes of Sullivan county, New York, are descended from the Monroes of Westchester county, and through them from Norwalk. John Monroe b. about 1800, m. Sally Bedford, and had the following children: Phoebe m. Cogswell Gorton; Elsie m. Truman Tymeson; Mary m. Chauncey Tymeson; Elmira m. Alfred Cheshire; Katherine m. Theron Smith; John m. Harriet Smith; William m. Levina Thompkins, and Josiah b. April 26, 1826, m. Sarah Ann Caul, with issue: Nelson m. Mary Cryan; Adelaide; Amanda m. Alfred Smith; Augusta m. Franklin Whitbeck, and Harrison b. October 15, 1860, who married with issue: Myrtle, Harry, Eva, and Edna. Information concerning this line of the family may be obtained from Miss Myrtle M. Monroe, Monticello, Sullivan county, New York. The census of 1790, gives the following Monroes residing in Westchester county, New York, who are heads of families: Joseph, Sr., Joseph, Jr., Nathan and Squire. Among the Revolutionary soldiers from Westchester county, were Nathan, Joseph, and Abel Monroe.

(D) THE MONROES OF SHARON, CONNECTICUT.

Joseph Monroe of Norwalk was one of the original purchasers of land in the town of Sharon, in 1738. He m. at Norwalk, November 15, 1735, Elizabeth Stuart. She d. at Sharon, April 14, 1742. She is mentioned as the second wife of Joseph. In 1757, he sold his place at Sharon and moved to Berkshire county, Masachusetts. Reuben Monroe, presumably a son, m. August 16, 1753, at Sharon, Ann Hawley. A daughter, Sarah, was b. at Sharon April 14, 1754. He also removed to Berkshire county, 1756 or 1757.

Noah Monroe came to Sharon from Salisbury, in 1751. He d. there May 5, 1793, at the age of 64 years. The following children were born to him and his wife Deborah: Deborah b. December 30, 1753, and m. December 31, 1769, Jacob Gillett; Miriam b. December 25, 1755, and m. December 27, 1773, Jonithan Gould; Noah b. October 6, 1757; Welthea b. October 15, 1759, and m. Reuben Monroe, the progenitor of the Berkshire family, was a Revolutionary soldier. He was a private in Col. John Brown's Berkshire county regiment, and Lieut. Ezekeal Crocker's company. Asabel Monree b. 1742, and Henry Monroe b. 1750, were also among the Revolutionary soldiers from Berkshire county. The census of 1790 gives Reuben, Noah, and Squire Monroe as heads of families in Berkshire county. Basil D. Monroe, East Monroe street, Springfield, Illinois, is interested in this branch of the Monroe family.

(I) THE MONROES OF MAINE AND NEW HAMPSHIRE.

It is more than probable that the Monroes of Maine and New Hampshire are descended from the Lexington stock. Ebenezer Monroe seems to have been the progenitor of the New Hampshire line. He took part in the Revolutionary war, being one of the Lexington Minute Men. His son John, m. Sophia Gibson with offspring: Sophia, Orison, Sophronia, and Porter. The latter m. Harriet Newell Maynard with offspring: Ella Sophia (m. Edward Warner), Hattie Augusta (m. John L. Alger), Orin Porter (m. Ada Foster), John Eugene (m. (1) Florence Seddon and (2) Alice Eddy), and George Elmer. Another New Hampshire family is descended from Joel Monroe, whose son David Putnam Monroe, was b. 1811. His son Ishmael, went first to Illinois and in 1853, to California. Henry E. Monroe, Esq., of San Francisco, is a son of Ishmael. Monroes lived at Durham, New Hampshire before 1760. Molly Monroe was b. at Durham, January 4, 1759, and d. there August 5, 1812. Hannah Monroe was b. at Durham, May 6, 1761. The census of 1790 gives the following Monroes as heads of families in New Hampshire. Nathaniel, Joslin, Joseph, Nathan, and Philip in Cheshire county, and Thaddeus and Susanna in Hillsborough county. Dr. J. E. Monroe of Orange, Massachusetts, is interested in the Monroes of New Hampshire.

David Monroe of Auburn was the progenitor of a Maine family. He m. Ruth Niles. His son Nathan, b. March 16, 1804, a well-known preacher and writer on theological subjects, was the father of ten children, seven of whom were boys.

(J) THE MONROES OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Andrew Monroe was one of the settlers of Cannonsburg, Washington county, Pennsylvania, in 1787, and a prominent figure in the affairs of the Keystone state. He left sons, George and Andrew. The latter had sons as follows: John, James, Charles, Ebenezer E., and Andrew b. July 18, 1817. The last named had sons, Basil P., Franklin P., Lowrie, William, Charles,

Grant, and Christopher M., b. December 6, 1842. The latter is a physician at Canton, Ohio, and is interested in this line.

(K) THE MONROES OF MARYLAND.

George Monroe, who m. Dorothy Cager, was a resident of St. Mary's county, Maryland, in 1667. He may have been the ancestor of Thomas Monroe, who m. Jane Watson with offspring: John and Thomas. The latter m. Elizabeth Guy, with offspring: Thomas, Alexander, and John b. January 6, 1777; m. July 23, 1809, Mary Robie, with issue: Levi Nelson, Hezekiah Daniel, George Overton, William Robert, Thomas Truman, and John Henry b. December 1, 1813, in Prince George county, Maryland, and d. November 10, 1868, at Alexandria, Virginia. John Henry m. February 10, 1846, Elizabeth Harrison, with issue: John Henry, William H., George O., Robert E. L., and Samuel L., b. August 23, 1854, and m. February 15, 1890, Frances Pitman Snow. The census of 1790, gives six Monroes as heads of families in Maryland—two by the name of John and two by the name of Thomas, in Charles county, and Samuel and Nathan in Baltimore county. Samuel L. Monroe, Esq., of Alexandria, Virginia, is interested in the Monroes of Maryland.

(L) THE MONROES IN THE SOUTH.

There were many Monroe families in the Carolinas before the Revolutionary war, some of whom moved to Kentucky and Tennessee after the war. Malcolm Monroe, born 1758, of Fayette District, Moore county, was a private in the North Carolina militia as were his brothers, Neill and John. Malcolm had sons John and Patrick. Patrick was b. 1815, and had sons Edward, Jefferson, Malcolm N. The latter was b. April 6, 1846, and was the father of the late James R. Monroe of Brooklyn (b. April 22, 1865, and d. April 6, 1912). George Monroe of Rowan county, b. 1757, was a private in the Virginia Continental lines during the Revolutionary war and James Monroe of Cumberland county was a lieutenant in Capt. Ray's company. The census of 1790 gives the following Monroes as heads of families in North Carolina: Alexander, Daniel, Neill, Malcolm, and Margaret of Moore county; Nell, John, Arabell, and Patrick of Cumberland county; Malcolm, Lewis, and Collins of Robeson county; John of Richmond county; Daniel and Catherine of Montgomery county; John and Thomas of Rowan county, and Arthur, William, and Ann of Ruthford county.

The following Monroes are reported as heads of families in South Carolina in 1790: Capt. Samuel, Samuel, and David of Spartanburg county; William and John (two) of Orangeburg District; John and Elizabeth of Charleston District; Jacob of Laurens county, James of Abbeville county, and Johnson of Greenville county. Johnson Monroe settled in Barron county, Kentucky, and m. Amelia Hooper with the following offspring: William, James, Johnson, and Matthew Hooper. The latter was b. March 25, 1800, and m. with the following issue: (a). Simon P., b. July 18, 1825, with issue: Charles E., James and Jonithan S., b. July 10, 1854, (Walter Scott Monroe of the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri, is a son of Jonithan). (b). William. (c). Allen. (d). James King. (e). David. (f). Hooper b. November 17, 1840, and m. with children, Olney, R. H., and Elmer E., who reside at Lyons, Kansas. (g). John. (h). Henry. William Y. Monroe, (the father of Professor Paul Monroe of Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City), was b. in Oldham county, Kentucky, April 3, 1824. His oldest brother Sanders A. Monroe, was the founder of the town of Monrovia, California. William Monroe of Tennessee had a son Thomas, and the latter had sons Thomas, Franklin, Lee, and Walt. Russell Monroe of Tipton, Missouri, is a son of Walt.

(M) OTHER MONROES OF CANTERBURY, CONNECTICUT.

Elijah Monroe resided at Canterbury, and may have been related to our ancestor, David Munroe. He m. March 1, 1752, Sarah Spaulding and the birth of one child is recorded at Canterbury, ——— Nehemiah b. August 13, 1759. Both Elijah and Nehemiah saw service in the Revolutionary war.

There were also Monroes at Norwich, who may have been connected with the Canterbury Monroes. The following marriages are recorded there: Thomas Monroe m. Susanna Lathrop, April 13, 1777. Benoni Monroe m. Margaret Edgerton, June 12, 1783. Thomas Monroe m. Esther Baldwin, May 7, 1778.

(N) THE LEXINGTON MUNROES.

For an account of the Lexington Monroes, see "Book of the Lockes" by John G. Locke and the closing chapters in "History of the Munros" by Alexander Mackenzie. James Phinney Munroe, 79 Summer Street, Boston, Massachusetts, is interested in the Lexington Munroes.
